

Chairs for Chemo

When it comes to cancer, we all know somebody who knows somebody... Julie Gillespie and Jenny Bunn, are just two of the many people who have had an experience with cancer. They have joined forces to help give some comfort to those who are currently walking the cancer journey in Taranaki, launching the "Chairs for Chemo" project to purchase six new specialist chairs for the oncology department to be used by patients going through chemotherapy.

The chairs are designed specifically for this purpose, making it easier for the hardworking nurses to position patients for their treatment and to help keep people as comfortable as possible during the process. The chairs currently in use are nearly 15 years old, and in their time have had more than 22,000 bottoms sit on them! The current chairs are now proving to be helpful with many mechanical issues. If you would like to assist Julie and Jenny to help some of the many affected by cancer, then please get in touch on 06 7569059 and donate. You can do so at Harcourts Ingwood office at 62 Matai Street or go to www.healthcare.co.nz/causes/chairs-for-chemo

Birthdays, those days that mean you are another year older. When younger you seem to want to get older and when you are older you want to go back to being young. Yes it would be great to be young again having no great responsibility, being carefree and having that joy in the little things that children have. To laugh out loud just because.

Shade-by the River
We can now look forward to late nights and watching Rugby World Cup 2019 for about the next six weeks. It got off to a good start last weekend with a spectacular opening ceremony put on by the Japanese, Japan. It was good to see the Japanese team take a well-deserved win over Russia in the first game.

There has been a lot of concern since Spark announced that they had bought the television rights to screen all of the matches live, and that the games would have to be viewed over the Internet. They then relented a bit and said that a few games including the semi-finals and the final would be live on free-to-air television.

Over a year ago they put the new fibre cables up Rata Street and I immediately got in touch with Spark, my provider, to be connected to the new network. Months later I responded to the letter box drop and confirmed our intention to go fibre. I wanted to be first in the queue. It has not worked out like that. I know that a lot of people have been connected but we are still waiting. What with extra consents, broken promises, surprise visits, delays, and no-shows it has been a litany of debates. We have an empty tube from the road to our house, we have a box with a new modem, but we have not got the thing, and there is no internal wiring, we have to wait for a RWC pass but we have to watch it using copper wire, and it barely keeps up the pace.

Sporting Trials News (Sud Hirst)
The Taranaki branch of Sporting Trials held the ninth event of the year near Ingwood on Sunday 1 September. Weather was great but ground quite slippery making some of the hill climbs challenging especially on the larger rut. Cameron Hunger had a great day for just his second event gaining third place. Results: First Sid Hirst, Second Murray Bridger, Third Cameron Hunger. The tenth round of the Taranaki Sporting Trials was held on Sunday 22 September in dry conditions (for a change). Scores were quite close for this event, which is good to see. Owen Jones shared his vehicle with Kevin Silverwood from the Waikato as his car failed to fire up. Murray Bridger was driving very well which gained him second place. Warwick Landers was also going well especially on the rougher hill climbs. Cameron Hunger is improving all the time and an unfortunate mistake on section two cost him two placings. Results: First Sid Hirst, Second Murray Bridger, Third Warwick Landers.

Kindergarten Teacher To Say Goodbye (Kirsten Horgan)
Kirsten Horgan would like to say the following to the Ingwood community:
"I cannot express enough what a pleasure and huge privilege it has been to be a part of this community in the role as kindergarten teacher for the past 18 years. I thank you all for supporting me. I have endeavoured to provide a loving, nurturing, safe and respectful learning space for tamariki and their families. I have tried to teach by the philosophy "Ko te ahurei o te tamaiti araha o tōkou māhā - Let the uniqueness of the child guide your work." One of the most rewarding parts of my job has been working alongside, and advocating for, children and families. This has been my passion and motivation to get up and work every day. I have many precious memories that I will cherish for ever. I will always treasure the time I have spent and the trusting relationships that I have had the privilege to develop with children and whānau. Thank you for allowing and trusting me to be a part of your children's learning journey. As I move forward to my new role as Head Teacher at Kahurangi Kindergarten I take with me te manuhira me te manuhira (love and memories) of my time at Ingwood Kindergarten. My last day at Ingwood Kindergarten will be Thursday 26 September 2019. There will be a shared lunch at 1.30 if you would like to join us. To all the tamariki I have taught I say "Kei ou ringaringa te ao - The world is yours!!" Tātou ka tūtaki ano - cill we meet again.

TimeBank Information Meeting (Moira Shepherd)
Are you curious about TimeBank? Would you like to find out more? Come along to the next Ingwood Orientation and Information meeting in the Ingwood Library on Friday 11 October at 10.00am.

TimeBank Taranaki's goal is to put the UNITY back into COMMUNITY, whether that be locally in Ingwood or in the wider Taranaki Region. We live in an increasingly commodity based society but TimeBank puts the emphasis on time as the commodity traded. Everyone's time is valued equally regardless of the skill or gift the person is sharing. Despite our lifestyles becoming seemingly 'easier' with technology how often do we lament for the 'good old days' where neighbour helped neighbour and people seemed to care more about each other? Much research has been done around the world showing the social advantages to this type of skill trading - creating links and networks to strengthen communities, and TimeBank is one way you can do this.

Over the winter months we seem to hunker down and perhaps even hibernate socially for a few weeks. There is plenty that TimeBank can help you with over these months that you don't have to pay for! Do you need a cake baked for a birthday party? Have you always wanted to learn about Microsoft Word or Facebook, or get some budgeting advice? Do you need help proof reading a document? Our Ingwood TimeBank community has a wide range of skills and people willing to share them.

Come along to the next information morning on Friday 11 October at 10.00am in the Ingwood Library. If that is not convenient for you due to work or other obligations please feel free to contact me and I can meet you for a coffee and tell you'll about it. Email rb.ingwood@gmail.com to make contact.

Garden Clues with Sue (Sue Marsh)

September is a busy month in the garden calendar. The days are getting longer and the weather warmer, but gosh we certainly had a couple good frosts this last week, so hope you covered over those early season potatoes. If you haven't already prepared the soil for your veggie garden, it's now the time to get started. If it doesn't seem turning over, just spread a couple of bags of compost over the bare soil and dig through the top layer before you plant. Sow seeds of carrots, parsnip, beetroot, silverbeet, peas, lettuce, leeks, cabbage, tomato, capsicum, courgettes, melon, cucumber and eggplant. Transplant to the garden as the weather warms and when they are showing at least two sets of true leaves. Sow peas, snow peas, runner and bush beans, directly in to the ground. Protect from any frosts, and don't plant too deep, as they can rot. Of course you can always plant seedlings, lettuce, leeks, cabbage, corn, pumpkin, celery, onions, silverbeet, courgettes. Just remember to stagger planting green salad crops like lettuce, lettuce and mesclun for continuous supply. Continue replacing your winter flowers with new spring annuals as needed. A pinch of blood & bone as you plant your annuals will give them a head start. Continue to replant your pots, if it wasn't displaced by its nutrients, so remove the old soil, add new container mix and fresh new flowers. Prepare that pumpkin patch, yes that's right, the Ingwood Harvest Festival is coming back, and it will be supported for further information. I understand, a few of you have already been planning how to boost your growing conditions this coming year! Enjoy the springtime garden!

Durham WI September Celebration (Christine Fitz Patrick)

Durham WI 779 Birchday was celebrated at Simply Devine Cafe in Egmont Village with a very enjoyable mid-day meal. President Valma Hirst made the delicious chocolate layer cake which was cut by three of the members. Impressively, when added up the combined WI membership of these three ladies it totals 137 years!

Afterwards some of the group visited Sur Le Mur (translates to 'over the wall') out at Lepperton. Steve and Wendy Parkes greeted them warmly and they were given the opportunity to taste their exclusive imported non-alcoholic French wines, gourmet syrups and some of the artisan condiments that they have available for sale. Wendy also makes hand poured fragrant candles on site and different. Some nice ideas for discerning shoppers who want something a little different either for themselves or as a special gift.

This charming French Country Style venue specialises in all kinds of private functions from their boutique tasting room to concerts, weddings and pretty much anything in-between. Each event is tailored to the clients needs.

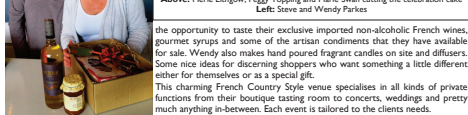

VOTE #1 Graeme Hamilton Sykes Taranaki District Health Board

I stand to improve community wellness by increasing capacity for healthcare services in local communities. This involves collaborating with primary care GPs, early detection and wellness support organisations, to understand our community needs. I have broad experience in management and governance in commercial organisations, local government and charitable trusts. Born in New Plymouth, attended NPBHS, BCA (Victoria University), Post Grad Diba (Crago University) and member Institute of Directors. My waka is the Amelia Thompson 1940. I've recently returned to support whānau. As a welfare guardian I have experienced the complexity of mental and mental health issues.

Increasing primary care health services for mental health, disease, learning impairments, accidents, emergencies and rehabilitation. Additional funding is required to build capacity and skill to deliver better services for patients and families as they require it.

Healthcare expenditure is an economic driver that will continue to improve wellness in our communities.

BestStart September Good Sort (Eric Mookman)

BestStart is a prominent person in the community, and she was nominated by Angela Aram for the work she does at the BestStart Centre, with the local genealogical society and at the Cue Theatre.

Mary was welcomed into the Centre for a special mat time and after the tamariki sang her "twinkle, twinkle, little star", Mary told the tamariki and the kaiaio a little bit about the work she does in the community. The tamariki then shared a little bit about all the lovely Grandmas and Granddads, and Nanas and Poppa's and Uncles and Aunties that are a part of their whānau. There was also a little discussion about what a theatre is and although this session was a little hard to understand of the tamariki, the centre are introducing them to plays and shows by having a puppet show the following day to help them explore what they are.

The tamariki were questioned about what prize Mary should get for being a good sort, and they decided that she must be very busy so the would need someone to get her food every day. Keeping this in mind Mary was presented with a gift card from New World and a beautifully smelling gift pack from local business Reflexology.

It was fantastic for the children to be able to meet Mary as she is so involved and therefore knowledgeable about the community and someone that they will be calling on time and time again as the centre expands their vision of Nurturing our Neighbourhood and teaching the tamariki what it takes to be part of a community and all the different roles and people that make up Ingwood.

If you know a Good Sort and would like to nominate them fill out a form at the centre or email ingwood@beststart.org.nz. Forms also at Ingwood Book Shop, Ingwood Hammer Hardware, Fun Hot Toys and the Library.

Kaimata School Hurlstone Trophy Netball Winners

Wednesday 11 September was an exciting day for Kaimata School with their netball team coming away with a win in the Hurlstone Trophy. The game against Rahotu was tough and they were trailing 5-1 after the first quarter but clawed their way back to lead at half time 7-6. Going into the second half resilience and digging deep brought the full time score to 13-10 with Kaimata taking the win. The school is very proud of the dignity shown with winning their attitude was exemplary. Jyde Enright was awarded player of the Kaimata team by the Rahotu coach. This is the first time Kaimata School have won the trophy and the last time they made the final, none of the current players were even born. Congratulations Kaimata School.

Inglewood Heritage Centre - Inglewood Sale Yards (Richard Jordan)

The latest Heritage Centre exhibition, curated by Gay and Kevin Laurence has opened. It shows the Inglewood saleyards that were an integral part of life in past times for our community.

In 2002 and with other factors at play, while sales were over 25,000 head per year at Inglewood in comparison with Stratford's at 5,500, Stratford won the battle for Taranaki's one centralised saleyards. This meant the closure of the Hawera and Inglewood Yards.

It was a end of an era in Inglewood. As one stage the turnover at the Inglewood yards was the third highest in the North Island. But in 2002 Taranaki Farmers held their final sale at the Inglewood. An 1901 news paper excerpt quoted "The Inglewood Borough has said no cattle saleyards will be allowed within the Borough". This was why the saleyards were built on the now Tarata Road (Formerly Junction Road) over the Kurapepe Stream, east of the township. The yards were built by The Farmers Co-operative Organisation Society in 1916. They were a substantial undertaking, practically all the timber used in the construction was Jarrah. The yards opened in opposition to Matthew & Gamlin's yards on the corner of Dudley and Mountain Roads.

Sales were held every Wednesday and most farmers spent the day at the sale, and then they would go to the hotel for a beer, then home. The women folk would use this day to shop and gather groceries. Wednesday was town day for rural folk, business and pleasure combined. In early times there were two companies involved in the saleyards: Farmers' Co-operative Organisation Society (FCOS) and Newton King Ltd and while they were strict opposition in business they ran the saleyards together, taking week about. Be sure to check out the exhibition, and if you have any photos or other memorabilia, please bring it in or let us know.

Lions News (Viv Adams)

The September meeting was well attended with 28 members and six guests present.

Inglewood Lions Past President Vanda Robinson presented a cheque for $500 to Briana Kempson who represented Taranaki in the U18 Hockey state. It went towards sponsorship naming rights on their uniforms which Briana proudly displayed. Past President Vanda also presented a cheque for $400 to Jenny Arbuckle towards battling for her quilt making. Jenny makes knee quilts which the donation to different causes. Jenny goes through approximately four rolls of batting a year for these quilts at $200.00 a roll. Jenny was congratulated for her service to others.

Coming up for Inglewood Lions social nights is "Guest who is coming to dinner" and a cooking competition. Sounds like a lot of fun.

Still some Inglewood Lions furniture for sale. Contact Kevin Knowles for details 0272498023. With Christmas not far off, the Inglewood Christmas Parade date has been set for Saturday 14 December so start preparing your Christmas parade float. Egmont Village Crop Swap Celebrates First Birthday (Cherie Benton)

Last Sunday 15 September marked the one year anniversary for the crop swap hub of Egmont Village. Organisers Claire Hubs and Cherie Benton were incredibly delighted with the turn out for the crop swap and as always there was an abundance of produce, plants, preserves and other gifts of nature to share around. After the swapping was done an afternoon tea was enjoyed with some delicious food and some good conversation. Egmont Village Crop Swap began last September and every month new people come along to see what a crop swap is all about. Others who attend are experienced 'crop swappers' who attend Waitotiki or other crop swaps too. The crop swap experience is such a positive one. For a small donation you come away with things for your garden or your kitchen that assists with living more sustainably. It's such a great feeling when you come away with some treasures. In a world where everything costs so much, I love that there is no money exchanged. Instead we rely on generosity and the resources we have around us.

Inglewood Golf News (Debbie Oulman)

On Sunday 8 September nine couples came out to play the Mixed Couples and Jack & Jill Competition. Winners of mixed couples were Sharon Joseph and John Fredrickson with a net of 62. Winners of the Jack & Jill competition were Paul Urban and Maree Messenger with a net 62. Congratulations to Mike Crofkey on winning the Marshall Trophy this year. Runner-up was Derek Surdelle.

Top Club Competition. Inglewood Win for third year running! Congratulations and thank you to Heather Jane, Paul Urban, Derek Spurdle, and Ray Reitzema for representing Inglewood Golf in the 2019 Top Club Competition on Sunday 15th Sept at Inglewood. The team had a combined stableford score of 148, winning nine clubs competition. Their score was ten points ahead of Fitzroy taking second place with 138 points. There were nine clubs competing in the competition this year.

Norfolk WI News (Alison Paterson)

President Maureen Bunn chaired the September meeting which was held at Alison Paterson's home with nine members attending. The federation newsletter was read, and it was noted that the Indoor Bowls Day will be held later this month at Rotary House. Members were also encouraged to keep knitting for Pregnancy Help. Betty read an interesting article from Home and Country. The Roll Call was a recipe I have tried from Home and Country with one member reporting the Steam Pudding for One (May/June copy) was very successful and gave an amusing account of how to prepare and make it. Spring is here with the plentiful floral entries for competition on the day, putting on a colourful display. Margaret Jordan and Alison Paterson did the judging and then served afternoon tea, enjoyed by all.
