

Fire Fighters Sky Tower Challenge (Helen Rose)
Saturday 22 May saw 944 fire fighters race up the Sky Tower. This was the 17th fire fighters challenge, raising a huge $1,349,908 for Leukaemia and Blood Cancer New Zealand.

Inglewood Volunteer Fire Brigade was represented by Lance Alleyby, Rochelle Mairdland and Helen Rose who as "Taranaki Star Climb Team" raised $5,840.00. This was made possible with the support of family, friends and the amazing Inglewood community!

A big thank you must go to: New Work, Martin's, Beauty Rooms, Little Liberty Creamery, Fern Lodge, Oscar Kivi Cafe, Hello Beautiful, Auto Torque, Farmlands and McDonald Real Estate for donating prizes and to everyone that donated time and money, bought raffle tickets and took part in the Quiz Night with Quiz Master Mr Wheatley, the weekend before the climb.

Editor's Comments
Mother Nature has certainly shown who really is in control over the last week, we were treated to a downpour over the weekend that resulted in flooding in more than a few places. There is literally nothing we can do to prevent these events but we can prepare. If you own a car make sure it is road worthy and then drive it to the conditions or don't drive it if it's not absolutely necessary.

Inglewood Community Board News (Mel Cook)
The district Long Term Plan has been occupying the time and minds of the Community Board for many weeks now and culminated on Wednesday 19 May in the adoption by Council of a $3 billion plan to invest in pretty much all aspects of our community.

NPDC SAFER SPEEDS REVIEW: URBAN ROADS
Public input will help NPDC draw up proposals for formal community consultation later on.
To make our roads safer, should we drop our speed limits?
• On some local roads?
• At our urban schools?
• In our retail centres of Westown, Fitzroy, Bell Block and Wairoa?
• In a wider area of New Plymouth's CBD?
For more details and to send in your feedback, go to newplymouth.com/roadsurvey
Feedback closes on Friday 18 June.

Experience Purangi News (Karen Morari)
It is the time of the year that our field team are out doing our annual health checks on our monitored kiwi and changing the transmitters that have a life of about one year.

mid, and scrambling through bush for our tricky, feisty kiwi. Well done team: Kai, Jaydon, Corbyn and volunteers Stephen and Mo who joined us to do blood sampling of the kiwi for a Massey University genetics study.
We are happy to report that our kiwi all appeared in good health and we even found a few of our kiwi's girlfriends. (Mrs Redwood is apparently a strapping 3kg!). Of course you can't always outsmart our tricky kiwi and Purf and Treer were successful in reading us this time. Check out the photos of Betsy (looking very chilled) - and a special up close picture of Kotikora's wing! These special guys are why we are passionate about what we do!
One way you can help kiwi is by adopting one of them to support and follow along on their journey for the year (the adoption certificate makes a fabulous gift!)

Restoring PG Nops Reserve (Leigh Honnor)
When we arrived at our May monthly working bee, local resident Graham Meads was waiting for us. He brought four young native trees for planting in the reserve. They were the offspring of mature trees on his property. He had been nurturing them for a number of years. Thank you Graham. There are many different ways you can help care for PG Nops: provide native plants for planting, remove pest plants, pick up rubbish, write articles to spread the word or provide afternoon tea for our volunteers. Small acts when multiplied by many people can transform the world.

Keeping in Tune with Inglewood (Pauline Julian)
At the working bee we cleared around plantings from previous years which were being enclosed by Wandering Willy, African Clubmoss, Onion Weed and various grasses. We cut down wild hydrangeas and wild cherry and sycamores. A helpful website to identify pest plants is www.wildlife.org.nz
Welcome to our new volunteer Tony Green who has joined our team.

ENERGY VETS TARANAKI
Age Concern Taranaki Social Connection Programme Coordinator Pauline Julian enjoyed singing along and socialising with many locals and visitors from Kohatu Rest Home, and others at the keeping in tune with Inglewood programme which is held on the second and fourth Thursday afternoon of the month at the Manakau Centre from 1.30pm to 3.30pm. Afternoon tea is provided and there are spot prizes. Rest homes are more than welcome (please phone prior to arrange). It is a gold coin donation. The afternoon is sponsored by Volunteering New Plymouth, Driving Miss Daisy Companion Driving, The Manakau Centre, St Johns Church Trust.
Do you enjoy a good singalong, play an instrument, enjoy socialising and meeting people? Well come along and enjoy Age Concern Taranaki's 'In Tune with Inglewood'. It's Fun!

Squash News (Wendy Baxter)
Inglewood Squash Club hosted The Junior Prince Tournament on Sunday 23 May. With over 30 entries, all showed good sportsmanship and on off court. It's great to see such positive young athletes play on court and encourage each other. When kids enjoy active play, they look forward to sports and exercise as a chance to make new friends and develop new skills.
If you'd like to try squash, then please make contact with Wendy 021 1171790.

Inglewood Swimming Success (Nichola Read)
Some of our local Inglewood swimmers from the Stratford Flyers and Aquabud clubs made the Taranaki swimming trials to compete in national events recently. We had Anahera Martin and Nina Goble competing at the National Age Groups Champs in Wellington at the end of April and Isabelle Wigham, Oliver Tippett and Daniel Read competing at the Division Two Champs in Dunedin last week. Both competitions involved a week of intense swimming up against some of the best in New Zealand.

Indoor Bowls Results (Bryan Whitaker)
The indoor bowling season is going well with all clubs in the Inglewood Division reporting membership on a par with recent seasons. It appears that COVID is behind us and all bowlers are moving forward.
Results from recent Division nights are: Darby and Joan Pairs winners were Sid Adam and Diane Adam, Division Open Singles winner, unbeaten on the night was Bryan Whitaker, Stachurski Pairs winners were Bryan Brigham and Ian Ratray.

Sporting Trials (Sidney Hirst)
