

Vintage Hudson's, Essex's and Terraplane Cars Coming (Kevin Fabbis)

NZ Hudson Essex Terraplane Club and Nash & Rambler is holding their AGM in Inglewood from the 18th to the 20th of October this year. The cars including Nash and Rambler will be aged from 1918 models through to 1935. At present there will be 35 cars and 60 people coming to Inglewood from Dunedin and Central Otago in the south up to Whangarei in the north. The weekend starts with a 'nug and natter' at the Fern Lodge on Friday night and a rally on Saturday viewing oil sties, farming and gardens around Mt Taranaki. The theme is oil and farming. There will be a dinner held on Saturday night at Fern Lodge. On Sunday there is a 'Thermette Challenge' with North versus South, this is always enthusiastically contested. The aim with a thermette challenge is to get your boiling first. The cars will be on display in the old railway yards while the AGM is held, then there are two days post the rally when cars will be touring around town and the province.

So you would have to be pretty oblivious if you don't know that local elections are going on. With all the advertisements and adverts around, along with the 'give a sh!t' campaign run by NPDC, it is really a hard to miss.
If you would like to have a say in who runs your local council etc then vote! It's not that hard, the papers are delivered directly to you, you just need to fill them out and drop them off.
These candidates are the people that have put themselves forward to try and make our community a better place with passion and enthusiasm not just sat on their keyboards typing negative comments and whinging. They have physically stood up and shown up for our community. So why that you actually give a damn as well as filling out those voting papers and dropping them off by Saturday!

Shade-by the River
Well I suppose it comes to most people sooner or later. The time when you are no longer in charge of your own destiny. These times suddenly ten days ago which getting ready to fetch our two grandsons for their first visit without their mum... I tripped in the garage and crashed to the concrete floor, landing mainly on my knee, it was very painful - but I could get over it, or so I thought. Mrs Arpy could not see the car and I would only have to sit there. But I was told there was an ambulance on the way - I was losing control.
From time to time you read criticism of our hospital. You have to experience the professional and caring staff to know how they are they are. So many of them go the extra yards to reduce the stress for their patients. Ok, the food isn't Cordon Bleu, but with the vast numbers of meals they cook on the way they do it is an adequate job - and I am a fussy eater.
With no say in the matter I am off to the rest home, don't know where I should be, the most worried - then or me, it's the whole new world that I have only worried about.
Food for thought, eh? AJM

Lions News (Viv Adanson)
A well supported September social evening for the baking competition by the Inglewood Lions and partners. The judge was Zone Chairman Alan Culmore. Everyone got to sample six savoury and ten sweet dishes that were entered. Kevin Knowles won the savoury section and David Robinson the sweet section. This was followed by a fantastic supper provided by the Inglewood Club for those that were still hungry. A challenge has been issued to the other eight Lions clubs that are in the North Taranaki Zone to a bake off for a savoury/sweet dish at the social meeting in March. A good fun night.
The Lions Junior Speechmaker competition for the Inglewood area was held recently. This competition was for 10-13 year olds and was hosted by the New Plymouth Lioness and Inglewood Lions Clubs. Twelve children took part. Four will now go to the 2020 finals which is to be held at Hawera on 3 November. The area that 2020 covers, is as far south as Foxton, east to Ruapehu and north to New Plymouth/Urenui. Inglewood Lions will sponsor Athalya Schimanski from Norfolk School who spoke on "Saving Te Reo Maori", and Rhianna Chard from Inglewood with "Kids can make a difference". The New Plymouth Lioness Club will sponsor Capri Peterson from Inglewood Primary - "We should get paid to go to school" and Connor Cowling from St Pats - "Cats and Dogs". The impromptu speech topic was "What I like about myself". This proved to be a challenging subject. Grateful thanks to the New Plymouth Lioness Club who organises the Inglewood competition for Lions. The club wish these four constants all the best for the final. For further information about Inglewood Lions contact Matt Ludlam 021 353083 or Dwayne Schimanski 02 78865933.

Squash News (Pauline Stachurski)
At the recent Dinner and Awards Night at the Inglewood Squash Club, Brianna See won a number of awards. Her 2019 squash season has been nothing but remarkable.
At the evening to celebrate players recognition, Brianna received Most Improved Junior, 'C' Grade Champion, Junior Champion and Runner Up in the Open section. Her season also had her representing her school at the National Secondary Championships. At the completion of this tournament she received the Fair Player Award. Also Brianna represented the Inglewood Squash Club, with the Kawerau Club, at the National Teams Super Champs. She won all five of her games to help the team to take the National title in Invercargill.
A fantastic season for Brianna, with a great future ahead.

BestStart Knowledge Box (Erica Gilbert)
This month for the BestStart Inglewood hairdressers the centre was pleased to learn about hairdressing from Teena of Curly hairdressers. Teena gave the centre a box of equipment that she uses on a daily basis at her hair salon and the first thing they did here in centre was have a special mat time to take a peek inside the box. There were lots of interesting things, some they already knew the names of and how to use such as a brush and a comb, but there were lots of other things that they had to have a look about. The children also had a think about some questions they wanted to find the answers to and then a few days later, Teena was able to come into the centre and work with the tamariki, showing them what everything was and how to use them. They learnt about the funny looking hair clips and how Teena could use them to hold up sections of hair while working on other sections. There was also a brush that the children thought was for painting and they were right with their guess. Some of the boys thought it was funny that you could paint hair, but a couple of the girls let it be known that the hairdressers did this to their Mummy's hair. Teena then decorated the tamariki's hair with hair chalk and showing them how to use straighteners, the brushes and the different combs. The centre was also fortunate that one of the parents, Monique, donated a bag of hair clips, headbands and hair ties - which the tamariki loved using on themselves and each other.
The early childhood curriculum Te Whāriki acknowledges the importance of bringing the community into the centre as 'children learn and develop best when their culture, knowledge and community are affirmed and when the people in their lives make connections across settings, so for the centre it is really important that the tamariki here at BestStart are living their vision of "Nurturing our Neighbourhood" and leaning about what it takes to be part of a community.
Teena, thanks very much for supporting the tamariki's learning about hairdressing through the knowledge box. The tamariki really enjoyed finding out lots of new information and they enjoyed playing hairdressers in the centre for the rest of the month. They are also excited to walk past your salon when they visit the library or other businesses in the community.

Garden Clues with Sue (Sue Marsh)
Springtime is planting time, and if you haven't already, get those vegetable and flower beds cleaned up, and ready for planting. Everything is available to plant from now on, but due to that chilly weather last week, just keep an eye on those tender plants, that you may have already popped into your garden.
As hinted last time, due to the amazing success of the first ever Inglewood Harvest Festival, it is happening again, and promises to be bigger and better! The giant pumpkin competition is back, and so if you would like to compete, then come into Hammer Hardware and pick up your free Atlantic Giant Pumpkin seedling kindly sponsored by Inglewood First. There will be a few available before Labour weekend, but most will be in store the week leading up to the long weekend. We'll post on both the Inglewood Hammer Hardware and Inglewood First Facebook pages, so please follow us, and we'll give you all the info you need.
There is so much choice when it comes to planting at this time of year, but you will always get better results, if you feed your seedlings at time of planting, and make sure you have also fed your garden beds with fresh compost, sheep pellets, potting mixes, and you'll be sure to reap the success, and grow healthy delicious or beautiful plants. Happy gardening, and we'll see you soon!

What's Rotary Been Up To? (Gloria O'Dowd)

Inglewood Rotary Club members got their blues on for the Annual Blue September fundraiser on the 7 September. This year they held BBQ and raffle at New World in Inglewood which raised a massive $300 for the Prostate Cancer Foundation. The winner of the raffle was Graham Meads with ticket 297. Many thanks to all those that supported the fundraiser and also to Phil Hind and the staff at New World a massive thank you for your support.

The Club organised and hosted a most successful "Meet the Candidates" meeting on Monday 16 at Rotary House, which saw all candidates, bar a few standing for the Health Board, attend and introduce themselves. An estimated 60 people heard why we should vote for each standing for election with some vigorous debate and discussion over a cuppa and a biscuit for a good while, following the formal meeting. A good suggestion was made for when the Club organises the next candidates meeting to prepare a handout with candidates' names and even a photo, so that voters can record their own notes and comments. This is something that will be considered for the next election. Rotary have some future events coming up and ask you to note them in your calendars: Christmas Parade Elves Sleigh Gift collection 14 December 2019, 25th Charity Car Show 2 February 2020, 4th Charity Twilight Golf Tournament 6 March 2020. Covered Roof for Inglewood's 18 Hole Mini Putt Course (Graham Robinson)

After two years of planning, the Inglewood Mini Putt course will be protected from our inclement weather. It will create an all-weather facility on the corner of Rata and Elliott Streets next to the swimming pool and playground. The Inglewood Mini Putt Charitable Trust is extremely pleased that the Taranaki Electricity Trust has funded the covered roof. This will enable the course to be open year round on selected days, with rain and sun not being an issue.

The project has had overwhelming support from Inglewood businesses, Lions and local organisations; as well NPDC has been very supportive. Mini Putt has been in a revival mode in recent times and this facility will provide excellent family entertainment. Complete with a kiosk, and a corner protected from the wind and rain, it will be able to provide business and social groups, or private parties after hours. Complete with BBQ and outside seating it will provide a great venue for some fun.

New Roof and Beds for Vertical Horizon (LeAnne Blakebeck)

Vertical Horizon Camp Trust was thrilled to be the recipient of a grant from TSB Community Trust enabling it to re-roof the dining hall. With the previous roof being over 18 years old and the dining room having served an estimated 150,000 meals in that time, a refresh and upgrade was needed to ensure the meals keep coming for years to come. With the new roof installed, work continued inside to install insulation and noise cancelling panels along with new LED lighting. It is now all set to make a more comfortable experience for diners ready for the summer season of camping.

Norfolk School News (Andrew Georghson)

Gorge Environment Project: At Norfolk School we often talk about our students taking ownership of our school and making our school a better place. We have truly seen this in action over the past year or so in our gorge project. Recently we had an architect visit our school and he commented that a group of children showed him around. They told him that they were really proud that we had a gorge at our school. Sometimes I think we adults don't understand the spaces that our children value or why they value them.

For so long this space has been out of bounds to our children (even though they played there anyway!). This term we have ramped up the work in our Gorge with the target of having the area ready for students in Term 4. Our raised boardwalk is now complete and the planting area is growing nicely. We have completed retaining wall repairs and thanks to Lance Chadwick and Tristin Dodunski a team of students were able to complete an awesome manuka fence, creating a great tree fort style viewing area.

The pathway to the area was grassed last week and we are hopeful that we can share the area with our community at Show Day on October 24th. It has been heart-warming to see how much pleasure our students get from contributing to this project. They really have taken ownership of it and have created a wonderful legacy. Feedback has also been wonderful from our community as well.

Christmas Wonderland (Heleen Rose)

YES! It's that time of year again when we start counting down to Christmas! So it's time now to start thinking about how you will decorate a tree for the Inglewood Christmas Fellowship - Christmas Wonderland.
